REPORT OF THE CHIEF ENGINEER OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

FELLOW CITIZENS :—

I have the honor to submit the following report of the condition of the fire department for the year ending March 1st, 1888, together with such recommendations as seem necessary. The department is as follows : One force pump with four hydrants. The basement of the town house contains the following : excelsior engine, No. 1, two hose carriages, one containing 600 feet of new leather hose, the other 300 feet of leather and 450 feet of cotton rubber lined hose. There is also in the basement three ladders, two fire hooks, one old worthless cook stove with tank and fourteen lanterns. Of the light-lanterns reported last year two of them are sperm oil and are worthless. The remaining six are rather complicated, and so six new ones were purchased for the use of the department. One cottage stove, ten settees, one chandelier, five lamps, one table and two chairs are in the engine house. Carmi engine, No. 2, at French village, with hose carriage containing 500 feet of hose and manned with twenty men. On the 21st of April an effort was made to get water through the hydrants when the pipe was found to be frozen and it was partly dug up, the sag taken out and some changes made. It is now thought to be in a condition to do service.

Engine No. 1 has not been taken out since it was moved into its present quarters. It will be noticed that the most of our hose is leather and it is safe to say that it is a thing of the past, and is virtually out of the market and has been abandoned by about all departments for several reasons. First ; when in service it becomes soaked with water which adds greatly to its weight, and in cold weather it freezes, rendering it entirely unfit for use. 2nd the oil which must be used to keep it soft and serviceable renders it disagreeable to handle, and 3rd ; all will agree that we have no convenience for the proper care of it. Our chances for getting water in case of fire are rather limited and the construction of a few reservoirs, in the different parts of the village and ways to get to the river, are very desirable. With all due respect to the men that compose No. 2, I do not believe it is for the interest of the town to support the organization ; it is recommended that the company be disbanded and the apparatus be placed under the town house with No. 1. Both engines and pump are believed to be in readiness to do service as soon as men can be got to work them. If the present state of affairs is to exist much longer, I think the best thing the town can do is to sell all of the fire apparatus. In submitting this report, I desire to thank the board of selectmen and citizens for their cordial support during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN GAGE,

Chief Engineer.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION,

FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 1, 1888.

At the annual meeting of the district March 8, 1887, Mr. Geo. E. Bales was elected a member of the Board for three years. Subsequently an organization was effected by the selection of Mr. Bales as chairman and Mrs. Dunbar as treasurer.

In submitting the annual report of the Board of Education, we desire to reiterate our disapproval of the course, frequently adopted, of discussing the qualifications of teachers in a public manner. In our judgment, it is not obligatory upon those having charge of your educational interests, to perpetuate the failures of a teacher, who, though earnest and faithful to her conceptions of duty, has been unable to attain complete success, when not infrequently such failure is due to causes over which she has no control. Again, it is at least unkind and also of very doubtful expediency in thus comparing one teacher with another.

We shall therefore refrain from all comparisons and simply attest our conviction, that all our teachers are entitled to praise for the zeal with which they entered upon their duties and the diligence and faithfulness with which their difficult tasks have been performed. So far as practicable, the board have endeavored to retain those teachers, who were efficient, in the schools where they were employed last year, believing that too frequent changes of instructors, with the consequent diversity of methods of instruction, to be a serious interference with the work of the school. Occasionally it becomes advisable to change teachers, when there is no palpable failure or even grounds for censure, when such action tends to allay fault finding and contribute to harmony. Those teachers, who have been continued, have a right to consider their retention a certificate of our highest commendation.

HIGH SCHOOL.

The need of a high school to accommodate pupils of advanced scholarship has been long apparent and those who have had the educational interests of the town at heart, have expressed themselves strongly in favor of the establishment of a high school, which should provide the youth of the town with the means for a thorough education.

In entire sympathy with everything, which should tend to the accomplishment of a more perfect and complete system of education, your committee has considered it of paramount importance to continue the good work, so auspiciously inaugurated in the high school last year. Fortunately the board were able to retain the services of Mr. L. J. Tuck, whose efforts in behalf of the school have been crowned with a success, which bears unquestioned testimony to his ability as an instructor.

The demand for a higher education is yearly becoming more manifest and this encouraging indication of advancement submits itself to our candid consideration. No argument is needed to convince fair minded men. that as a matter of economy, business sagacity and common sense, the best possible way to meet this demand is to still further enlarge the facilities of the high school, so that the requirements of a worthy ambition may be supplied. We would therefore bespeak for it in the future your liberal support and hearty encouragement. We invite your inspection of the course of study pursued in the school, which appears below.

PARENTS.

One of the best aids which a teacher can have is the sympathetic co-operation of parents. Too often teachers are subjected to the severest criticism from those, who have never darkened the doors of the school-room, the government of which they assume so intimate an acquaintance. The Board have found the apathy of parents in this respect such as to warrant severe censure. To those, who have exhibited by their presence at the exercises of the school, their interest in the welfare of their children, we would acknowledge our appreciation. The encouragement thus given both teachers and pupils is of incalculable benefit.

The late Hon. James A. Adams while superintendent of the schools in Manchester, gave expression to the following language, which is so pertinent that we desire to present it.

"We have intelligent and accomplished teachers, we have talented and ambitious pupils, we have school officers who give their time and efforts to the cause, but not one of those agencies nor all combined, can insure success while home influence is not right. As the family, so will be the school, so far as any influence is exerted. As believes the father or mother, so acts the boy or girl when they come with the impress of home upon them into the school-room. Let us urge then upon the parents of our school children the importance, the absolute necessity, of encouraging both teacher and pupil. Teach your children obedience at school as well as at home. Let them understand that for a just reproof or chastisement at school they shall have no false sympathy. Aid your children at home; speak of the school as a pleasant thing; allow no trivial object to keep your children from the school-room; sympathize with them in their trials and efforts for improvement. Do this, and you will contribute to the success of the teacher, to the progress of your children, and to the permanent good of the schools of the town."

GENERAL REMARKS.

We congratulate the citizens of the town upon the satisfactory condition of the schools at the present time. The neglect to provide opportunities, commensurate with our resources, for the enlightenment of the younger generation, would be the occupation of a position, which no self-respecting community would care to assume. While there is room for improvement, the care with which our educational institutions have been fostered in the past, enables us to say without fear of contradiction, that no town in the state of equal population can establish the claim to better schools than exist in Wilton.

The attention of the town is called to the need of an appropriation to be expended in much needed repairs upon the various school-houses, which, with hardly an exception require the immediate expenditure of a sum of money. The school-fund is not sufficient to allow the allotment of the requisite amount for such repairs and we would urge upon the town the necessity of making a special appropriation to meet this requirement.

A matter of special gratification, has been the high order of discipline which has been maintained throughout the year. But few instances of corporal punishment have been reported, the educating influence of the strap yielding to more approved methods of government. An appeal to the highest attributes of youth, their manhood, honor and self-respect often proving more effectual in restraining, than the infliction of corporal punishment.

Teachers are urged to make their registers as complete and accurate as possible. As the statistics contained therein are reported to the State Superintendent, any omissions on the part of teachers involves additional work by the committee, which from the complicated shape in which certain registers are returned renders the task a difficult one.

ATTENDANCE.

According to the census taken by the selectmen in April, 1887, of the children between five and fifteen years of age, it appears that there were 234 of school age ; 122 boys and 112 girls.

The whole number enrolled upon the school registers is 336 ; of whom 173 are boys and 163 are girls. The registers also show that there are 2 under five years of age and 32 over fifteen years of age.

In conclusion we would acknowledge the courtesy which has been so generally extended by our fellow citizens during the past year, and express our appreciation of the support accorded us in our efforts for the promotion of the educational interests of the town. Let us hope that the commendable spirit of liberality so characteristic of our people will lead them to make a generous appropriation for the advancement of the cause of education.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO, E. BALES, Chairman.
